PRIVACY POLICY

LF Avionics, Corp. ("LF Avionics," "Company," "we," "us," or "our") respects the privacy of its customers, suppliers, business partners, and website visitors.

This Privacy Policy describes how LF Avionics may collect, use, process, retain, and disclose information obtained through our website, electronic communications, and business activities. By accessing or using our website or voluntarily providing information to LF Avionics, you acknowledge the practices described in this Privacy Policy.

1. INFORMATION WE MAY COLLECT

LF Avionics may collect personal, business, technical, and transactional information, including:

- Name, job title, and company or organization
- Business and personal contact information
- Email address and telephone number
- Billing and shipping information
- Customer, supplier, and account information
- Part numbers, serial numbers, aircraft information, and component information
- RFQs, quotations, purchase orders, repair orders, warranty requests, and service-related information
- Communications and correspondence with LF Avionics
- Information voluntarily submitted through forms or other website features
- Any other information voluntarily provided in connection with an inquiry, transaction, or business relationship

When you access our website, certain information may also be collected automatically, including IP address, browser type, device information, operating system, referring pages, pages visited, approximate geographic information derived from an IP address, and website interaction or usage information.

2. HOW WE MAY USE INFORMATION

LF Avionics may collect, process, and use information for legitimate business purposes, including to:

- Respond to inquiries, RFQs, and service requests.

- Prepare quotations and process purchase or repair orders.
- Perform repair, overhaul, testing, inspection, and related aviation services.
- Manage customer, supplier, and business relationships.
- Communicate regarding quotations, orders, repairs, shipments, warranties, invoices, and customer support.
- Verify customer, supplier, transaction, or component information.
- Maintain operational, quality, financial, regulatory, and business records.
- Improve our website, capabilities, services, and customer experience.
- Analyze website performance and usage.
- Protect against fraud, misuse, unauthorized activity, and security threats.
- Establish, exercise, or defend legal or contractual rights.
- Enforce agreements, policies, and applicable terms.
- Comply with applicable laws, regulations, governmental requests, contractual obligations, and aviation requirements.
- Support other legitimate business purposes reasonably related to our operations.

3. CAPABILITY SEARCHES & WEBSITE SUBMISSIONS

Information submitted through LF Avionics' capability search, contact forms, RFQ forms, or similar website features may be collected and used to respond to requests, identify customer requirements, provide relevant services, improve our capabilities and website functionality, and support legitimate business activities.

Submission of a part number, component description, RFQ, or other information through the website does not constitute acceptance of an order, confirmation of capability, a binding quotation, or a contractual commitment by LF Avionics.

All services remain subject to LF Avionics' applicable quotations, terms, technical capabilities, regulatory approvals, and acceptance of the applicable order.

4. COOKIES, ANALYTICS & SIMILAR TECHNOLOGIES

LF Avionics and service providers supporting our website may use cookies, analytics tools, log files, and similar technologies to operate and secure the website, understand website traffic and usage, remember preferences, diagnose technical issues, and improve website performance.

The availability and operation of these technologies may depend on the services and technologies used by our website.

Users may control certain cookies through their browser or device settings. Restricting cookies may affect the availability or functionality of certain website features.

5. DISCLOSURE OF INFORMATION

LF Avionics does not disclose personal information except as reasonably necessary for legitimate business purposes, including to:

- Service providers and vendors supporting our business operations.
- Website hosting, information technology, cybersecurity, and analytics providers.
- Financial institutions and payment-processing providers.
- Shipping, freight, customs, and logistics providers.
- Professional advisers, including attorneys, accountants, auditors, and consultants.
- Customers, suppliers, manufacturers, repair facilities, or other business partners when reasonably necessary to perform or support a transaction or requested service.
- Government agencies, regulatory authorities, law enforcement, or other parties when disclosure is required or reasonably appropriate under applicable law.
- Parties involved in an actual or proposed merger, acquisition, financing, restructuring, sale of assets, or similar corporate transaction.

LF Avionics may also disclose information when reasonably necessary to investigate fraud, protect our systems, enforce our agreements or policies, protect our legal rights, or protect the rights, property, or safety of LF Avionics or others.

6. SALE OF PERSONAL INFORMATION

LF Avionics does not operate its website or business for the purpose of selling personal information to third parties.

Certain privacy laws may define terms such as “sale,” “sharing,” or similar concepts differently. Where applicable, LF Avionics will handle personal information in accordance with the requirements imposed by applicable law.

7. THIRD-PARTY SERVICE PROVIDERS

LF Avionics relies on third-party providers to support portions of its website and business operations.

Phone: (754) 217-0109 Email: Repairs@lfavionics.com

Although LF Avionics takes reasonable measures when selecting and working with service providers, third-party systems and services operate independently and may be subject to their own terms, security practices, and privacy policies.

To the extent permitted by applicable law, LF Avionics is not responsible for the independent acts, omissions, security practices, or privacy practices of third parties that are outside LF Avionics' reasonable control.

8. DATA SECURITY

LF Avionics maintains reasonable administrative, organizational, and technical safeguards designed to protect information under its control against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, destruction, or misuse.

However, no website, electronic communication, network, information system, or method of electronic storage can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

Accordingly, LF Avionics cannot guarantee the absolute security of information transmitted electronically or stored within systems outside its reasonable control.

Users transmit information electronically at their own risk, subject to rights and protections that cannot be waived under applicable law.

9. DATA RETENTION

LF Avionics may retain information for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes for which it was collected or subsequently processed.

Information may also be retained as necessary to:

- Maintain business and transaction records.
- Satisfy contractual obligations.
- Maintain maintenance, quality, traceability, or aviation-related records.
- Comply with applicable FAA, EASA, UK CAA, or other regulatory requirements where applicable.
- Meet accounting, tax, audit, insurance, and legal requirements.
- Resolve disputes.
- Establish, exercise, or defend legal claims.
- Enforce agreements and policies.

Retention periods may therefore vary depending on the nature of the information and applicable requirements.

10. ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATIONS

By communicating with LF Avionics electronically or providing contact information in connection with an inquiry or business relationship, you acknowledge that LF Avionics may communicate with you electronically regarding your inquiry, quotation, order, repair, account, transaction, or business relationship.

Where permitted by applicable law, LF Avionics may also provide relevant business, service, capability, or company communications.

Recipients may request to discontinue non-essential marketing communications where applicable. Transactional, operational, regulatory, or service-related communications may continue when necessary.

11. INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFERS

LF Avionics is based in the United States and conducts business with customers, suppliers, and partners internationally.

Information provided to LF Avionics may therefore be transferred to, processed, or stored in the United States or other jurisdictions where LF Avionics or its service providers operate.

Privacy and data-protection laws may differ between jurisdictions. Where applicable law requires specific safeguards for international transfers of personal information, LF Avionics will implement measures reasonably necessary to satisfy those requirements.

12. PRIVACY RIGHTS

Depending on your jurisdiction and applicable law, you may have certain rights regarding your personal information, which may include rights to request access, correction, deletion, restriction, portability, or other legally recognized rights.

Such rights are not absolute and may be subject to exceptions or limitations permitted by applicable law.

LF Avionics may retain information notwithstanding a deletion request when retention is reasonably necessary or legally permitted for regulatory, aviation, contractual, transactional, security, recordkeeping, or legal purposes.

LF Avionics may take reasonable steps to verify the identity and authority of an individual making a privacy request before processing that request.

13. THIRD-PARTY WEBSITES

Our website may contain links to websites, platforms, or services operated by third parties.

LF Avionics does not control and is not responsible for the content, availability, security, privacy practices, or policies of independently operated third-party websites or services.

Access to third-party websites is at the user's discretion and subject to the applicable third party's terms and policies.

14. CHILDREN'S PRIVACY

LF Avionics' website and services are intended for commercial, aviation, and professional business purposes and are not directed toward children.

LF Avionics does not knowingly solicit or collect personal information from children through its website.

15. BUSINESS TRANSFERS

In the event of a merger, acquisition, financing, reorganization, sale of assets, change of control, or similar business transaction, information maintained by LF Avionics may be transferred or disclosed as part of that transaction, subject to applicable law.

16. LEGAL & REGULATORY DISCLOSURES

LF Avionics reserves the right to preserve, access, use, or disclose information when reasonably believed necessary to comply with applicable law, regulation, legal process, governmental request, aviation authority requirement, contractual obligation, or to establish, exercise, or defend LF Avionics' legal rights.

Nothing in this Privacy Policy is intended to restrict LF Avionics from maintaining or providing records where required by applicable aviation, safety, quality, legal, or regulatory requirements.

17. LIMITATION OF THIS POLICY

This Privacy Policy describes LF Avionics' general privacy practices and does not create contractual rights beyond those required by applicable law.

Nothing contained in this Privacy Policy is intended to waive any legal right, defense, limitation, or protection available to LF Avionics under applicable law.

If any provision of this Privacy Policy conflicts with a requirement that cannot legally be waived or limited, the applicable legal requirement will control to the extent of that conflict.

18. CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

LF Avionics may modify this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in its business operations, website, technologies, regulatory requirements, or applicable laws.

The current version will be made available through our website. The "Last Updated" date identifies the most recent revision.
